JEWELRY STORE DAMAGED BY FIRE

A Lighted Cigar Stump May Have Caused Blaze

William Sears Cut Off From Escape By Blaze and Rescued By the Firemen.

LOSS ABOUT THREE THOUSAND

Half suffocated with smoke and perspiring from every pore in his skin, William Sears, jeweler in W. N. Warren's jewelry store, 403 Broadway, was awakened this morning at 3 o'clock in his room back of the store, with every avenue of escape cut off. A fiercely burning fire had him cut off from the street, but fortunately the telephone was accessible and fire company No. 1 arrived within a few minutes after he telephoned in an alarm. It was not until after the fire had been fought down by chemicals, an excellent piece of work on the part of Captain Joe Collins and his company, that Sears was able to leave his prison.

Mr. Sears sleeps in the rear of the store and when he was awakened the fire had gained great headway. It started in a closet in the middle of the front half of the store, and was burning clear across the ceiling. Paper boxes stored in the closet and other combustible material added fuel to the fire. It was one of the hottest small fires the No. 1 company has ever fought.

Warren carried $3,500 insurance and estimates his loss at $2,500. His show cases, and, in fact, every glass in his store was cracked and his equipment ruined. The building proper was not damaged in excess of $200. It is owned by Miss Pauline Houston and fully insured.

Dr. L. L. Smith, a partner of Dr. Horace Rivers, sleeps in his office directly above the jewelry store and was awakened by smoke and the heat. He rushed down stairs into the street in his pajamas. His office equipment was not damaged aside from the lingering scent of smoke.

The Warren fire is of mysterious origin. An examination shows that it could not have been caused from an electrical wire, and it is presumed that it originated from a cigar stump carelessly thrown near the closet.

MAY MAKE ARREST OF RAILROAD MEN

New York, Feb. 18.—Prosecution on the charge of manslaughter of several high officials of the New York Central railroad is regarded as probable as a consequence of the wreck of the Brewster express on the Harlem division of the road Saturday night, resulting in the death of 22 and injury of 150 passengers. Developments at coroner's inquest will definitely determine whether the prosecutions will be ordered.

Another report is current today that the wreck Saturday night was due to train wreckers. Men, not employees, were seen on the track where the wreck occurred shortly before the accident. An investigation is being made.

GOOD AMATEUR TEAMS ASSURED THIS SUMMER.

Yesterday's ideal weather revived interest among local baseball fans, and Messrs. Charles Akers, Tom McGarrigal and Virgo Berry, of the Illinois Central shops, set about arranging to organize teams. Mr. Berry will manage the L. A. L. team and Messrs. Akers and McGarrigal will doubtless take charge of a team to be named after a prominent Broadway merchant. There is enough good material in Paducah out of which to organize several strong amateur teams.

Church Musical.
A musical service was held last evening at the Trimble Street Methodist church. The program was a very elaborate one and was well carried out. The Rev. G. W. Banks spoke on "Church Music." An orchestra assisted in the music.

The Rev. J. W. Blackard, presiding elder of the Paducah district, held services yesterday at Lebanon, one of the charges in the Paducah city mission. There were large congregations present.

TO CHEAT GALLows.
Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 18.—Frank Hotman, convicted as an accomplice in the murder of Clarence Myers, awaiting execution, stabbed himself twice this morning and was found in his cell unconscious. Hotman was convicted and sentenced with Agnes Myers to be executed for the murder of the woman's husband.

THAW'S VALET GROOM.
Boston, Feb. 18.—As soon as he could get a clergyman and license James Morley, Harry Thaw's former valet, who arrived from Sweden to testify in the famous trial, married Miss Augusta Carlson. Directly after the ceremony Morley and his bride went to New York to confer with Thaw's lawyers. Morley and Miss Carlson grew up together in Sweden.

OPPOSE BRYAN IDEA.
Washington, Feb. 18.—Twenty-nine Democratic senators and representatives were interviewed on the subject of government ownership of railroads, the sufficiency of the present interstate commerce laws and the necessity of a plank on the subject in the next Democratic platform. All but one were against government ownership. The exception is Representative De Armond, of Missouri.

MILLIONS STARVE.
Washington, Feb. 18.—"Twen ty million Russian peasants are suffering from famine and three millions are on the verge of starvation," declares Nicholas Schiskoff, of the United Zemstvo Famine Relief association of Samar, Russia, who is here. Schiskoff is conferring with the Russian ambassador.

BAD TO WORSE.
New York, Feb. 18.—Police are looking for a gang of wire tappers, who are said to have swindled Walker, treasurer of the New Britain, Conn., Savings bank out of $350,000. It is claimed Walker put up the money to beat the pool rooms, after losing a quarter of a million in Wall street speculation.

JAP BILL CARRIES.
Washington, Feb. 18.—A test vote in the house this afternoon indicates the prospective adoption of the Japanese exclusion proposition by a vote of 106 to 104 on a motion carried, laying on the table an appeal from the speakers' decision that the Japanese amendment was properly inserted in the immigration bill by the house and senate conference.

IROQUOIS FIRE CASE.
Danville, Ill., Feb. 18.—"Not guilty" is the plea of Will J. Davis, manager of the Iroquois theater of Chicago, made today to Judge Kimbrough in circuit court of Vermillion county. The specific case against Davis is the death of Iva Jackson in the Iroquois fire.

GRAIN MARKET.
Cincinnati, O., Feb. 18.—Wheat, 79 1-2; corn, 48; oats, 44 1-2.

DE ARMOND WILL LEAD FIGHT AGAINST WILLIAMS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 18.—Opposition to the continuation of the Democratic leadership in the house by the Hon. John Sharp Williams, which heretofore has had a more or less indeterminate existence, has finally crystallized around DeArmond of Missouri, who today gave official sanction to the movement to use him as a battering ram to break down the Williams fortifications.

QUASHES FAVROT INDICTMENT
Judge Sustains Motion in Murder Case Against Louisiana Man.

Baton Rouge, La., Feb. 18.—The motion to quash the indictment against Congressman-elect Favrot, charged with murder, was sustained today by Favrot's successor on the bench, Judge Brunot.

There is only one kind of a newspaper circulation statement that is worth any consideration and that is the daily detailed statement. The Sun is the only Paducah paper printing such a statement.

THAW SUSPECTED HIS ATTORNEYS

Said Expert Evans on Stand This Morning

Prisoner Told Him It Was Providence Urged Killing of White in Public Place.

DELMAS IS STILL IN CHARGE.

New York, Feb. 18.—When the Thaw trial opened this morning Juror Bolton took his place in the jury box. Dr. Evans, who was on the stand when the case adjourned last Thursday, was called to detail the conversation had with Thaw. Jerome objected to the introduction of the conversation from memory, but it was overruled. Evans testified that Thaw said to him during one of his visits to the Tombs: "I never wanted to shoot this man. The creature was a blackguard. I never wanted to kill him. I had no desire to kill this vile creature, which was devouring the daughters of Americans. It was Providence. I wanted him to suffer humiliation publicly. I went to see Comstock and Jerome's detectives and got no real assistance."

The witness also said Thaw said his lawyers at that time and Jerome were trying to railroad him to the madhouse, because they were White's friends.

Lawyer McPike, Judge Delmas' partner left the court room soon after court opened. It was reported he has quit the case, chagrined at the criticism heaped upon him by other attorneys for his discussion of the case and by the statement in the morning papers voicing Mrs. Thaw's disapproval of his action.

Delmas Wins.

Last night it was stated that through the intercession of Mrs. William Thaw, mother of Harry K. Thaw, the dissension between the counsel which yesterday threatened a disruption of the forces of the defense had ceased, and that D. M. Delmas, the California lawyer, will continue as the principal examiner of witnesses and make the closing plea for the defense. It is added that Delmas' law partner, Henry T. McPike will not figure actively in the future proceedings.

TWO CARS WRECKED AND ENGINE DAMAGED.

Two cars were wrecked and a switch engine badly damaged in the Illinois Central south yards this morning shortly before daylight. Switch engine No. 85, and a cut of cars crashed into a train being made up near the water tank in the south yards and turned one car over. The wrecker was secured to clear the tracks and it required several hours.

FOUR MEN KILLED IN TUNNEL BLOW-UP

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 18.—Four men were instantly killed at 6:35 o'clock this morning by the explosion of 25 pounds of dynamite in No. 6 tunnel on the Louisville & Nashville railroad, six miles south of this place, where contractors were constructing a double tunnel. The dead are: Foreman Hugh Sutton, Frank Boyles and two negroes. Another negro received probably fatal injuries. It is claimed that the men were throwing out dynamite before a fire and one stick with a percussion cap exploded when exposed to the heat. The killed and injured were horribly mangled.

Count de Massiney Here.

Count P. de Massiney, of Chicago, is in the city today on business, and is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Victor Voris at their home on West Broadway. He is representing his own vineyards of France in this country. Count de Massiney is a nephew of Mrs. Annette Cheney, of St. Louis, who has been the guest of her friend Mrs. Voris, here on several occasions. Mrs. Cheney is now in the Philippines visiting her son, an officer of the United States army there.

Nuisance Charge.
The case against the Southern Peanut company for maintaining a nuisance at its plant was continued. Engineer John Holmes, of the water plant, swore that dust from the factory creates a nuisance.

LANE DISMISSED IN CIRCUIT COURT

Popular Magistrate, Charged With Contracting With the County While Member of Fiscal Court, Exonerated

TEAMS HIRED ON THE ROADS.

HOT SPRINGS FOR TRAINING.

W. E. Lane, magistrate of the Fifth district, was acquitted this morning of the charge of contracting for county road improvements, while a member of the fiscal court. The evidence was submitted on facts as attested by those concerned.

Magistrate Lane is well known and popular. Two terms ago he was indicted for the alleged contracting for county road improvements. It grew out of the fact that he was working teams on the county roads. The evidence showed that he simply hired his teams at common labor prices, and the court "being sufficiently advised" dismissed the case. By agreement the jury right was waived.

Mr. Lane's many friends will be pleased to learn that he had been placed right before the public.

SENATE RACE

Is Warming Up and Graves Has a Candidate.

Mayfield, Ky., Feb. 18.—Politics is beginning to warm up here even at this early date. Sam Norton, John R. Ray, of this county, and Mike Taylor, of Fulton, are candidates for the state senate. A convention has been called at Fulton, March 14, to nominate a candidate. Mr. Ray said this afternoon that he was a candidate until the November election unless the convention was put off a reasonable time. J. E. Warren, a young attorney, Leon Evans, a druggist, and Houston Brooks, a school teacher, are all candidates for the legislature in this county. W. B. Stanfield, a young attorney of the city, is expected to announce Monday, and probably J. W. Usher, of this county, will also announce. A primary election will probably be called to nominate a candidate for this office.

Bailey Will Be Exonerated.

Austin, Tex., Feb. 18.—The Bailey investigating committee will probably finish its work this week. It is stated that from the evidence so far adduced a majority of the committee will make a report to the legislature exonerating Senator Bailey from the charges that were filed against him.

Raku Governor Killed.

Baku, Feb. 18.—The governor of Baku, a man of 70, was killed today. The cause of death was a heart attack. The governor was a man of 70, and he had been in poor health for some time. He was buried in a cemetery in Baku.

TOLEDO WILL NOT COME TO PADUCAH

Manager Bleecker Receives Some Bad News For Baseball Fans But Will Urge Reconsideration

ASPIRANT FOR CITY CLERK.

Manager John S. Bleecker, of the Paducah Traction company, this morning received a letter announcing that the Toledo American association baseball team will not work out here this spring, but instead will go to Hot Springs. This will be a great disappointment to Paducah fans, but Manager Bleecker did not give up. He has written an urgent letter, inviting them to accept the grounds for training out. Manager Bleecker has started repairing the ball field for the Toledo team's visit.

Fine Causes Fire.

Fire company, No. 3, was called to the residence of Charles Rhodes, 1023 Boyd street, this morning at 11:30 o'clock. The roof had caught fire from the fine, and damage to the amount of $5 was done.

DEMOCRATS WILL NOMINATE MAY 2

Committee Met Saturday Night and Fixed Date in Brief Session—Candidates Lining Up For The Struggle

Thursday, May 2, is the date selected for the city Democratic primary. It was arrived at without parley, and is acceptable to the majority of candidates. Chairman W. A. Berry was at Smithland, but Hon. James M. Lang called the meeting to order at 8 o'clock.

Judge D. A. Cross was selected chairman pro tem and Robert Wilharm, Barnard Kavanagh and Thomas Orr were named as secretaries. The business was transacted with dispatch, the date of the primary being set after a brief discussion among candidates.

The matter of appointing a committee of five to arrange for the preliminaries, was left to Chairman W. A. Berry, who will act at once.

Attorney John Miller, Jr., has formally announced his candidacy for city prosecuting attorney, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, May 2. He is the son of Attorney John G. Miller, of the firm of Hendrick, Miller & Marble, and promising young attorney.

City Clerk's Race.

Mr. Maurice M. McIntyre, the well known expert accountant, will today formally announce his candidacy for city clerk, subject to the action of the Democratic party, May 2. He is a young man well known generally. He and City Clerk Henry Bailey are the only candidates so far announced. Mr. Bailey, who has been ill two days returned to his office this morning to prepare for the council meeting tonight and will attend, though still weak.

Cox Tried This Afternoon.

Ed Cox of Fulton county, who was arrested on the charge of bootlegging, by Wade Brown, deputy United States Marshal, is being examined this afternoon by Dr. Gardner, United States commissioner.

WEATHER — Fair tonight and Sunday, slight change in temperature. Highest temperature yesterday, 54; lowest today, 40.

NEW COUNCILMAN FOR FIFTH WARD

George O. Shelton Hands in His Resignation

Found City's Business Demands More Attention Than He Can Afford to Give.

LOWER BOARD MEETS TONIGHT

What seems to be an authentic report has it that Councilman George O. Shelton, of the Fifth ward, will resign his seat in the lower board of the general council, and that Mayor Yeiser will name his successor tonight. Eugene Tuttle, contracting carpenter, of 1246 South Seventh street, is mentioned as his successor, and Mayor Yeiser, when questioned this afternoon, said that it is true, the resignation of Councilman Shelton has been mentioned and he has been petitioned to name Mr. Tuttle. Whether he will or not, he declined to say.

It is expected that several new measures, some of them having to do with sanitation, will come before the council board tonight. An ordinance prohibiting steam whistles blowing within the city limits longer than ten seconds, will be introduced.

Councilman Shelton stated this afternoon that he has tendered his resignation to Mayor Yeiser. Business responsibilities, he says, prevent him devoting the time necessary to the city's business, without slighting his own affairs.

METHODIST MINISTERS

Meet and Form an Organization for City.

The Methodist ministers of the city and adjacent churches, this morning at 10 o'clock at the Broadway Methodist church and organized to meet on the Mondays following the first and third Sundays of each month. The body will discuss subjects pertaining to the work both general and in detail. The Rev. J. W. Blackard, presiding elder of the Paducah district, is chairman of the association, and the Rev. W. J. Naylor, of the Paducah City Mission, is the secretary. The subject to be discussed at the next meeting will be "The Greatest Needs of the Churches in Paducah," and the Rev. G. W. Banks, of the Trimble street church, will present the topic.

G. R. DAVIS WILL ANNOUNCE SOON

It is now only a matter of inclination when Mr. G. R. Davis will announce as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for mayor. It was stated on incontrovertible authority this afternoon that Mr. Davis will be a candidate in the primary. Mr. T. B. Harrison, the only candidate who has announced, expressed entire satisfaction with the political situation this afternoon and seemed to think the indecision of the other prospective candidates as a factor in his favor. The intimate friends of Col. Charles Reed cannot tell whether he will be a candidate and it was stated that Mr. Noble would not think

CURE YOUR KIDNEYS.

Do Not Endanger Life When a Paducah Citizen Shows You the Cure.

Why will people continue to suffer the agonies of kidney complaint, backache, urinary disorders, lameness, headaches, languor, why allow themselves to become chronic invalids, when a certain cure is offered them?

Doan's Kidney Pill is the remedy to use, because it gives to the kidneys the help they need to perform their work.

If you have any, even one, of the symptoms of kidney diseases, cure yourself now, before diabetes, dropsy or Bright's disease sets in. Read this Paducah testimony:

Mrs. Charles Williams, of 700 Terrell street, Paducah, says: "Despite the use of plasters and home remedies my back ached almost continually, and as my husband who is employed by the Singer Sewing Machine company on Third street, continually complained of his, we were both constantly on the outlook for some means to check or eradicate the cause. Reading one night about Doan's Kidney Pill induced me to get that remedy at Alvey & List's drug store. Two boxes thoroughly proved that the preparation acts up to the representations made for it."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

THEATRICAL NOTES

At The Kentucky.

Wednesday night—Harry Beresford in "The Woman Hater."
Thursday night—"Papa's Boy."
Friday night—"The College Widow."

Papa's Boy.

Next Thursday night at The Kentucky "Papa's Boy," a musical comedy success, will hold the boards for one night only. The company includes 20 pretty show girls, that can sing, dance and pose. The comedy is a satire on social life, with the scene laid in the Hotel Astorbill. The piece is of the rollicking kind, and there are plenty of good musical numbers, with tuneful music.

Harry Beresford.

Manager J. J. Coleman has engaged an excellent company to support Harry Beresford in David D. Lloyd's eccentric comedy, "The Woman Hater" this season. Miss Helen Travers will be the leading comedienne. Miss Margaret Lee will be the character comedienne and Miss Mildred Johnson will be the ingenue. It is rather remarkable that every part in this play is a comedy part for even comedies often harbor a villain and other serious roles. William C. Andrews will be the principal character comedian in support of Mr. Beresford. Otto F. Andrie will essay the eccentric character comedy role and H. H. Sleight will have a character comedy part. Edwin Belden will be the light comedian and be it said with due reverence, his good looks will please the ladies. Harry Creighton will portray a character role and last but not least C. Y. O. Pugh will strive to amuse in a similar character. Harry Beresford in "The Woman Hater" will be the attraction at The Kentucky next Wednesday night.

College Widow.

"The College Widow," that sweetly gracious being who presides over the destinies of the under-graduates, at once the despair and admiration of the entire student body, will be seen at the Kentucky on Friday night. Since Henry W. Savage first produced this satire by George Ade on college life, "The Widow" has moved from city to city with an ever growing train of admirers, and so strong has been the demand for her presence all over the country that it has been necessary to organize and equip three different companies to meet the booking demand of the various managers from Maine to the Pacific Coast. The vivacious piquancy of "The Widow"; the breezy, off-hand good fellowship of the Athletic Girl; the quaint mannerisms of the boarding house keeper's daughter; the jaunty chaperon, and the carefree, mischievous students, furnish material for mirth provoking situations which Mr. Ade has utilized in his own inimitable way. The football scene in the third act is one of the masterpieces of modern stagecraft, and in the absorbing interest of the game the beholder is carried away by the enthusiasm of the grandstand and can hardly contain himself until the great Billy Bolton wins the game for Atwater and is carried from the field on the shoulders of his wildly cheering classmates. And during the celebration of the victory, even those who are not athletic enthusiasts cannot repress a thrill of sympathy as the singing, cheering students parade in front of the village inn. Mr. Savage has ex-

The old story that "it's an ill wind," etc., has its newest illustration at the expense of Mrs. Leslie Carter, who was to have played a long spring engagement at the Hudson theater but was prevented from doing so as the result of a bitter quarrel with Edward Milton Royle, the author of her play. Frederic Thompson, as it happened, had already told in these letters, had been making earnest but ineffectual efforts to find a New York theater into which to remove his immensely successful "Brewster's Millions," at the end of the time allotted to this piece at the New Amsterdam. The severance of contracts between Mrs. Carter and the Hudson management just fitted into the desires of Mr. Thompson, and so, instead of going out upon the circuits with his comedy-drama, he will continue the period of this work in the metropolis for months to come. It is said that Mr. Thompson's tenancy of the Hudson is to last for a year at least, and there really does not seem to be any reason why it shouldn't do so, for "Brewster's Millions" has caught the fancy of the public in a manner that cannot be disputed.

NEW YORK LETTER.

New York, Feb. 18.—I see that both Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Goodwin take pains to enter a denial of the statement published in this correspondence a week ago to the effect that their business relations were severed and that in all probability their personal and matrimonial alliance would presently follow suit. In spite of this double denial let me reiterate that I have it upon unimpeachable authority that Mr. Goodwin is no longer a partner in the tours of Maxine Elliott and that his withdrawal from that combination was made greatly against his will; that he disapproves most vigorously of the prominence given by Miss Elliott's management to the leading man of her supporting company, to whom Mr. Goodwin in confidential moments refers with a baleful glitter in his eyes as "that English dunder;" and that if it were not for the great disadvantage falling upon a man going to law against his beautiful and accomplished spouse over a matter of mere money, Goodwin would unthinkingly bring suit for a restoration of his financial interests in his wife's business. It may be, and doubtless is, good policy from a commercial point of view for both Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin through their agents to dispute the existence of such a situation as the one here described. Nevertheless the facts are precisely as narrated and there is no such thing as getting away from them, however desirable such a possibility might be.

The production of "Genesee of the Hills," a dramatization of one of the most delightful of all American stories ("Told in the Hills," by Marah Ellis Ryan), was not received at the Astor theater with all the cordiality it was entitled to when the first New York presentation was made on Monday evening. The play is interesting throughout and it reflects in atmosphere as well as incident the novel that first brought national fame to Mrs. Ryan. It may be that we have had a sunfeast of frontier dramas during the past few months. Or possibly the audience wasn't in the spirit to catch the warmth and color of the play. At any rate it did not evoke the hearty response that had been looked for and that may come to it with the familiarity of repetition. I am speaking now of the conduct of the regular first nights, who were out in force, and who sometimes make the most extraordinary errors of judgment. For instance, on the first performance of the present entertainment at Weber's Music Hall they brought in a unanimous verdict of failure and accompanied their verdict with practically unlimited ridicule. The show, however, not alone survived this treatment, but immediately developed into the biggest financial success ever known in the Weber playhouse, constantly puzzling the management to account for the increase in receipts which had already been believed to represent the outside capacity of the auditorium. So you see a first night on Broadway isn't always a true test, and I dare say it will not be so in the case of "Genesee of the Hills." This is no endeavor to boost "Genesee," but is merely a reflection or so upon what seems to be a much better play than a good many others that have won the unqualified approval of New York.

Paula Edwards may decide to produce her new comic opera for a trial spin about Easter time. This would give the clever little comedienne an opportunity in the first instance to decide upon the value of her property, and in the second to make any changes in score and libretto that might suggest themselves as being beneficial. Still further, should the new work prove to be all that is anticipated for it, there will be no difficulty in securing for it a continuous route for the following season, a situation that has marred the hope of more than one well established star during the past fall and winter. One must be forehand nowadays.

STUDY OF NATURE

HOW IT RETRIEVES HEALTH WILL AWAKEN WONDER.

Easy to Be Healthy If We Merely Follow Out Nature's Laws.

We are living in a day of reason, thought and consideration. We are learning that an assurance of health rests in a natural environment, and that health, once lost, can be restored by natural means.

For two thousand years, man plodded the highways and byways, and exhausted the chemical kingdom searching for that indefinable "something" that would drive disease from the body; but like the story of the old grandfather who searched everywhere for his spectacles and found them on his forehead this "something" was found in the body itself; and needs but to be free and unobstructed to restore and preserve health.

The facts of natural resistance to, and recovery from disease form the foundation of the Osteopathic system of treatment.

The study begins with the wonderful anatomical and physiological provisions with which living organisms combat the injurious agencies surrounding them. That many persons remain well, that many ill persons regain health, are facts so well known that according to the rule that the common is commonplace, they do not excite wonder, and yet, when we reflect on the innumerable external causes of disease, injuries, poisons, unwholesome foods, germs, social, climatic and temperature changes which the living organism must successfully resist—we realize that good health is a marvelous occurrence.

When you become acquainted with the changes that occur in the body when it is the seat of the various diseases, the recovery from a broken bone, a burn, typhoid fever, tuberculosis, chronic catarrh, or any disease, awakens in you a great admiration of and wonder at Nature's power. Good health and recovery from disease depend upon certain conditions the fulfillment of which invariably results in health.

Unimpeded nerve force, and unobstructed blood are essential, absolutely, to health. A mechanical disturbance to either may be brought about about by pressure upon the nerves or blood vessels.

The Osteopathic treatment of these conditions locates the cause of the disturbances and removes them by manipulation; frees the natural vital forces, restores the normal blood flow and retrieves health.

Rheumatism, ja grippe, nervous disorders, neuralgia, chronic headaches, constipation and liver disorders, indigestion, asthma and bronchitis all, yield readily to the treatment. I can refer you to friends or acquaintances of yours in Paducah who will attest to Osteopathy's virtue in any of these diseases, and shall be only glad to tell you what I can do for you, if you will call or phone my office at any time from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Dr. G. B. Froage, 516 Broadway.

"That fence, why every glass works has a fence around it. That's just to keep the kids on the night shift from running away," said the obliging foreman."

Mr. Beebe has been investigating the child-labor subject for some time for the Technical World and this is just the beginning of a story of the suffering of these little slaves of commercial greed. Much of his material is entirely new and the general reader cannot but be startled and horrified at the tale of these children who have been robbed of their birthright. Under the startling suggestive title, "Of such is the Kingdom or Heaven," the cruelty and misery of the lot of the "children who have no childhood" is related dramatically—and it is a tale to break unhardened hearts.

CONVENTION DATE

WILL BE JUNE 19.

Conflict With Master Plumber on Twenty-sixth.

Republican Committee Decide to Set Day Forward for Better Accommodations.

MENTIONED AS CANDIDATES

Louisville, Feb. 18.—The Republican state convention will be held Wednesday, June 19, instead of Wednesday June 26, as fixed at the meeting of the state central committee last Thursday. The change of the date was made necessary from the fact that the National Association of Master Plumbers are booked to meet in Louisville June 25 for a several days' session, which will practically take the entire capacity of the various hotels in the city for that time.

This fact was communicated yesterday morning by Louis Seelbach to Richard P. Ernst, chairman of the Republican state central committee. Mr. Seelbach informed Chairman Ernst that it would be impossible for the delegates to the state convention to secure hotel accommodations if they came to Louisville June 26. Chairman Ernst at once got in communication with Thomas L. Walker, secretary of the committee, suggesting that he communicate with the members of the committee and secure their sanction to making the convention date one week earlier. The date of the county mass conventions will be Saturday, June 15, instead of Saturday, June 22.

Secretary Walker yesterday communicated with the following committeemen, who signified that they were willing to make the convention one week earlier: State at large, David W. Fairliegh, of Louisville, and George W. Welsh, of Danville; First district, W. J. Debow; Second district, Will P. Scott; Fourth district, M. L. Heavrin; Fifth district, John W. Cassedy; Seventh district, Stanley Millward, who had proxy of R. J. McMichel; Eighth district, T. J. Ballard; Tenth district, Robert H. Winn.

The change in the dates of the conventions will cause but little trouble, owing to the fact that Secretary Walker had not yet issued the official call. He will probably send out the official call within the next few days. Secretary Walker said all the committees were willing to make the change in the date when informed of the difficulty that confronted the delegates in the way of hotel accommodations.

Possible Candidates. Among the candidates suggested for the various positions for which nominations are to be made at the Republican state convention are the following:

Governor—Judge W. H. Holt, of Frankfort; John W. Yerkes, commissioner of internal revenue; Judge Ed. C. O'Rear, of the court of appeals; John W. Lewis, of Washington county; George W. Jolly, of Owensboro; William Henry Jones, of Barren county; Judge A. R. Burman, of Madison county; A. E. Wilson, of Louisville; Judge James Breathitt of Christian county; E. T. Franks, of Owensboro; George W. Welch, of Boyle county; Gen. Dan Lindsay, of Frankfort; Judge H. C. Faulkner, of Barbourville; W. H. Cox, of Madison county.

Lieutenant Governor—Judge Jas. Breathitt, of Christian county; W. H. Cox, Madison county; William Henry Jones, of Barren county; John Marshall, of Louisville.

Attorney General—George W. Jolly, of Owensboro; A. E. Wilson, of Louisville; C. J. Waddell, of Hopkins county.

Auditor—C. M. Barnett, of Ohio county; W. H. Cox, of Madison.

Treasurer—Lawson Reno, of Owenboro; W. P. Scott, of Dawson Springs.

Clerk of the court of appeals—Henry Cassin, of Louisville; Dudley Lindsey, of Owensboro; Ed S. Woods, of Muhlenberg county.

Commissioner of Agriculture—A. C. Hanna, of Pike county; George Baker of Muhlenberg county.

Secretary of State—Ben L. Brunner, of Hart county; S. D. Young, of Barren county.

Superintendent of Public Instruction—S. A. Anderson, of Ohio county; George Kittinger, of Muhlenberg county.

Secretary of State Central Committee—A. S. Bennett, of Ohio county.

Daily Thought.

"Directed toward the enjoyment of the senses, the strong will may be a demon, and the intellect merely its debased slave; but directed toward good, the strong will is king, and the intellect is then the minister of man's highest well-being."—Success Magazine.

SOUTH AND IMMIGRATION.

President Roosevelt has carried his point again and Japanese coolies will be prevented from further operation of their trick of entering Manila or Honolulu with passports and then sailing from there to San Francisco. The only opposition to the immigration came from a few southern senators, who, headed by Tillman, raised the objection that a clause in the bill would prohibit the southern states from encouraging immigration.

A careful study of the clause fails to substantiate this objection, which seems to have been raised primarily by the cotton mill men of South Carolina, who moved their factories there from New England, ostensibly to be nearer the raw product, but really, we fear, to be farther away from the child labor agitation. This clause provides that no immigrant shall be allowed to remain, whose passage is paid by anyone other than a personal friend or member of his family, or who comes under specific contract for work. The object of the clause is obvious—to prevent manufacturers from importing the riff-raff of southern Europe and oriental coolies to reduce the standard of wages of American working men. The objection of South Carolina cotton mill men, also, is easily understood, and behind those cotton mills are the New England capitalists who really own them. They have sent agents to Europe to personally solicit families to come over to this country, and their agents have offered bonuses to expert mill operatives. A ship load came over.

Why Senator Blackburn should take up the cotton mill men's fight, it is hard to understand, unless it be he has not made a careful study of the immigration question. Western Kentucky, we are sure, does not desire pauper immigrants. We are trying to induce self-supporting hardy agriculturists, who can pay their own passage, to come to us. We have waste land for them to cultivate. The immigration law cannot interfere with that enterprise.

As a matter of fact the stream of immigration is quite steady enough, and of sufficient volume without agents soliciting people to come, and certainly without agents soliciting that kind whose transportation has to be paid. Consider the kind of Americans that could be induced to try a venture in a new country by the offer of $50 bonus and a free ticket. Coxey's army would be reorganized in 30 days.

To bring the riff-raff of southern Europe, or any other part of Europe, to this country to settle in the cities, is only to aggravate a condition that is already a national peril. It is the colonization of these foreigners, with their foreign ways and foreign speech, in cities, in railroad camps and in the mining communities of mountainous Pennsylvania that is giving us trouble. Disturbation, rather than limitation of immigration, will finally solve the problem, and the national government should establish a bureau to co-operate with those of the states to send the immigrants into the south and west, where they may be brought under the present American influences.

Western Kentucky's movement is patriotic as any ever instituted by any people. We want the best of the immigrants. This country is an asylum for the oppressed of other nations and people seeking home and freedom are always welcome. This kind of people we are inviting to come to western Kentucky to settle on our uncultivated land. Investigation has shown that these immigrants have a specific destination in view when they start for America. Therefore, it is necessary to send agents to Europe, not to lure people from homes over there, but to advise them of the advantages of selecting homes in this section and directing those who intend coming to our country. There is nothing, as we can see, in the immigration measure prohibiting this, and nothing to prohibit a bureau at the port of entry co-operating with the agent in Europe and the people out here. It is in this work that the United States government should co-operate in order to distribute the immigrant population. This is a far different thing from importing cheap foreign labor.

There are certain facts from which only one deduction is possible and any attempt to reason otherwise is rejected by a rational mind. For instance, when one says that a man has but one love and one object in life, and that is the accumulation of dollars, and that he owns a bank, or a hotel or a store or real estate in a city, and then predicates on these facts the conclusion that such a man does not desire the development of the city, we put down the one making the assertion as deficient either in intellect or honesty. If a man owns a bank in a city, anything that increases the population of the city, puts more money into the channels of local trade or conduces to its industrial development will naturally be desired by him, because all these things aid his business. If the city grows his bank will grow. If the city dwindles his business not only will dwindle, but it will be jeopardized. Can't one imagine a storekeeper hindering the industrial development of the city, or an increase in population or per capita wealth? Think of a person interested in a hotel or street railway doing anything to prevent the growth of a city! A man of that disposition would not have sense enough to accumulate the money with which to secure an interest in anything.

The Lexington Herald is the kind of prophet we would listen to in the hour of darkest doubt. The Herald says: "The trend today is away from the Republicans and toward Democracy." And this in spite of the fact, that the Republicans gained four congressmen in Kentucky at the last general election.

The Illinois legislature before it adjourns should pass a bill, limiting the number of buttons on ladies' kid gloves. This would aid the bachelors' tax in promoting matrimony.

IRISH MEASURES ARE OUTLINED

Full Details Lacking But Authentic Report Out

Council Will Be Administrative Rather Than Legislative at First.

SEPARATION WILL BE TRIAL

London, Feb. 18.—William O'Brien the member of parliament from Cork City has outlined the impending Irish measure by which the government proposes to meet the growing demands for Irish rule. Mr. O'Brien wrote an explanation of the proposed measure as a means of giving Irishmen in America information upon this vital legislation in which they are interested. He said:

I am not in a position to speak with any authority of what the Irish devolution bill is likely to be. There are, however, certain lines upon which without any inner knowledge it may be predicted with some confidence that any minister is sure to travel if his bill is to have any chance of being accepted by the representatives of Ireland. In the first place it is certain that the bill will not be presented as a settlement of the Irish claim for self-government, but only as a preliminary experiment. Whatever arrangements may be proposed as to the present powers or constitution of the Irish council, they will be provisional and will be left open to enlargement in a period of ten years at the utmost, or as I hope and believe, five years. In the second place, the king's speech may be taken as defining the scope of the council's functions. They will be administrative and financial. That is to say, they will embrace control of all the administrative departments known at present at "Dublin Castle" with the exception, I am afraid, of the Royal Irish constabulary and of the judiciary, and will, in addition, include the spending of $25,000,000.

The case against Charles Slaughter, charged with setting up a game of chance over Frank Just's barber shop on North Fourth street was continued. The place was raided Saturday night by Detectives Moore and Baker and an improvised gambling outfit confiscated. Judge Beasley, who is alleged to have been in partnership with Slaughter, is missing.

Frank Dunkinson, colored, for carrying concealed a deadly weapon, was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to 20 days in jail.

Mattie Sewell, colored, was fined $20 and costs for conducting a disorderly house.

Rodney Perkins, Ed Brown, Dora Berry, Beulah Caldwell and Hermann Sanders, colored, charged with robbing Bpd McKnight, colored, of $25, were granted a continuance.

Other cases: R. P. Griffith, Oscar Ferrel, — Lewis drunkenness, $1 and costs; Harry Fields, defrauding a boarding house, filed away; Josie Ligon, Grace Cole, colored, breach of peace, $20 and costs each; Robert Hale, colored, using insulting language, continued; Hubert Porter, colored, breach of peace, dismissed; Nick Bryant, refusing to pay fare, continued.

Mr. Adams is a forcible speaker and is making a deep impression on those who hear him. The revival will continue this week with services at 2:30 and 7:30 p. m. Mr. Adams will remain to assist the Rev. J. B. Perryman in the fine revival inaugurated by the services of the past week.

Dr. Boiling's Sermon.

Dr. W. T. Boiling's theme at the Broadway Methodist church last evening was "Missions," based on Matthew 18:38, "The world is the field." He elaborated the thought that "the field is the world, the gospel the seed, and the church is the sower." That the opportunity is not lacking, he proved, by the oriental countries that were opening their doors wide to Christian civilization. This country has more money now than it knows what to do with, and with the field, the seed, and the opportunity and the money, the church should sow broadcast during the twentieth century. If the countries of heathendom have been taken for commerce what should not be done by the flag of Christ. If dollars can send men to work there the love of Christ should constrain his laborers to go. It is not a question will the heathen be saved but if we neglect the command to send the gospel, will the church be saved.

I should like to talk with you at any time about your particular case, and know I can cite you to some of your friends who will attest to what the treatment has done for them in similar diseases. Come to my office, 516 Broadway, or phone 1407 any time from 9 to 12 or 2 to 5 p. m.

P. D. C. Club Prettily Entertained.

The girls of the P. D. C. club were delightfully entertained on Saturday afternoon by Miss Marjorie Loving at her home, 521 Monroe street. The club prize a pretty picture, went to Miss Lucyette Soule. Miss Henri Alcott captured the lone hand prize, a bunch of red carnations. An attractive luncheon followed the game. Only the club members were present. The club meets fortnightly.

Mrs. Van Senden's Euchre Luncheon.

The Washington (D. C.) correspondent of Sunday's Courier-Journal says:

"Mrs. Herman Van Senden, formerly of Paducah, gave an elegantly appointed luncheon to a number of ladies at her handsome new home on Columbia Road, decorated by a game of euchre. The decorations were all crimson. The guests represented all parts of the Union. Among the Kentucky ladies present were Mrs. William Priest Conway and the pretty little wife of Congressman-elect John W. Langley."

To Address Woman's Club of Memphis.

The Rev. Warner Thomas Bolling, D. D. has accepted an invitation to address the Nineteenth Century club of Memphis the leading woman's club of that city, on Thursday at the open meeting of all the departments of the club. Dr. Bolling will speak on "What the Nineteenth Century Has Done for Women", a subject peculiarly appropriate. He will leave for Memphis on Wednesday.

Miss Mabel Mitchell, of the Franklin school has returned after a two weeks' illness.

Mr. Ed Rivers went to Princeton this morning on business.

Miss Nell Mercer, of West Monroe street, left Saturday for a visit to friends and relatives in Louisville and New Albany, Ind.

Miss Pearl Thomas, of Mayfield, is the guest of Miss Letha Furyear at 806 Broadway.

Mr. Harry Mears and Miss Mallie Parkin returned Saturday from Chattanooga.

Miss Ethel Robertson, of this city, and Mr. Clarence Knowles, of Chicago, spent Sunday in Princeton, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Terry.

Mrs. W. J. Hills, of 320 North Ninth street, is confined to her bed from grip.

Mrs. Thomas Long, of Hopkinsville, who came Friday to attend the funeral of her friend Mrs. Berrie Campbell, was summoned home on Saturday by the illness of her husband.

Mr. Ed Wattis and niece, Miss Bessie Lou Watts, spent the day in Col-Hersville yesterday.

Mr. Will J. Dickie, the tailor, is ill of the grip at his home on West Broadway.

County Judge R. T. Lightfoot has returned from Creolean Springs, where he had been a few days for his health. He was able to be at his office today.

Miss Lucile Pennywitt has gone to Evansville and after a short visit in that city will go to Riverside, Cal., to reside.

Joe Waller, formerly of Florence Station, died of heart disease at Texarkana, Texas, Saturday, and his body was brought to Florence today for burial. He was a son of Mrs. Dora Waller and well known.

Dr. C. H. Linn, postmaster of Kuttawa, is in the city today.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Covington left this morning for Adairsville to visit Attorney Frank Lucas, who has returned from Cincinnati where he went on legal business.

Dr. Carl M. Sears returned at noon from Austin, Tex., where he had been on a two weeks' visit.

DOG AIDS "HUGGER" IN FIGHT

Fierce Animal Attacks Citizens Who Capture Annoyer of Women.

Bloomington, Ill., Feb. 18.—The "Jack the Hugger," who for months has been frightening women and children on the streets of Bloomington, was arrested today after a fierce fight with a number of citizens, in which former Governor Joe Fifer took a prominent part. The fellow proved to be Wesley Greenlee, a young carpenter, who is said to be weak-minded. He was surprised while annoying a number of little girls in a park. When the citizens seized him his shepherd dog rushed to his rescue, and it took several men to beat off the savage animal. Meanwhile Greenlee struggled like a maniac, but finally was overpowered.

Union of Methodism.

Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 18.—During an address last night at McKendree church on the West as a field for the Southern Methodist church, Bishop James Atkins eloquently urged the unity of at least the two leading branches of Methodism, the northern and southern churches. He also urged the expenditure of $1,000,000 on the Pacific coast by the Southern church as the longest step toward the suggested union. For the united church he advocated a new name, something like the Episcopal Methodist church or the United Methodist Church of America. As to its government he suggested a general council with supervision over matters of jurisdiction, etc., with four lesser councils, one for each section to have supreme control over matters of a nature local to the section, such as the race question. The late was the issue upon which Methodism divided in the forties.

DOG OWNERS COMING IN TO PAY LICENSE ON PETS.

Today at noon Chief of Police James Collins instructed every pet owner to secure the names of dog owners who have not paid a license tax on his pet. His announcement last week that he would do this and start a vigorous campaign against dog owners, served its purpose, and this morning many dog owners were present to pay taxes.

Chief of Police James Collins received a telegram this morning from Mrs. William Donnelly, at Chaffee, Mo., asking that her husband be notified of his baby's serious illness and to come home at once. The police have been unable to locate him.

Church Built From One Tree.

"A large Baptist church that stands in the city of Santa Rosa, Cal., enjoys the distinction of having been constructed entirely from a single tree," says the Technical World Magazine for March. "Of course, that includes the woodwork of the structure. The tree from which the timbers, lumber, and shingles were cut was a giant California redwood. A considerable quantity of the lumber was left over after the church building was completed.

"This building has a spire seventy feet high; an audience-room capable of seating 300; a parlor capable of seating eighty; a pastor's study fourteen by twenty feet, a vestibule and toilet room. The building is thirty-five by eighty feet. There are not many buildings in the country all the timber of which came from a single tree."

Bankruptcy.

J. R. Roberts has been declared a bankrupt by Federal Judge Walter Evans and his case referred to Referee E. W. Bagby. Referee Bagby has set February 23 as the date for the first meeting of creditors to elect a trustee.

Hon. E. W. Bagby, referee in bankruptcy, this morning received the papers in the cases of J. D. Foley of Lola, and James H. Nelson & Son, of Hampton, and has set February 28 for the filing of schedules of liabilities and assets.

LARGE BAR OF IRON.

Drops From Nervous Woman's Blouse Waist.

If a strange woman who was evidently laboring under as much liquor as righteous anger, had met the object of her search last night there would doubtless have been another malicious assault case before Police Judge D. A. Cross this morning. She boarded a street car near Fourth and Broad streets at 11 o'clock last night. At every corner she would peer anxiously out of the window as if looking for some one. Under her shirtwaist she feverishly fingered something, and just before she left the car at Broadway the object fell from her nervous grasp. It was a large bar of iron. She picked it up and quickly left the car.

FOR

HEALTH OF WOMEN

In this nineteenth century to keep up with the march of progress every power of woman is strained to its utmost, and the tax upon her physical system is far greater than ever.

In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers few drugs were used in medicines. They relied upon roots and herbs to cure weaknesses and disease, and their knowledge of roots and herbs was far greater than that of women today.

It was in this study of roots and herbs that Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., discovered and gave to the women of the world a remedy more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

is an honest, tried and true remedy of unquestionable therapeutic value.

This medicine made from native roots and herbs contains no narcotics or other harmful drugs and today holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases of any medicine the world has ever known, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the laboratory at Lynn, Mass., which testify to its wonderful value.

Mrs. C. E. Fink, of Carnegie, Pa., writes:—Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—"I wish every suffering-woman would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and write to you for advice. It has done me a world of good and what it has accomplished for me I know it will do for others."

When women are troubled with Irregularities, Displacements, Ulceration, Inflammation, Backache, Nervous Prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Out of her vast volume of experience she probably has the very knowledge that will help your case.

QUIT GOVERNMENT.

Civil Service Employees Can Get More as Laborers.

Washington, Feb. 18.—The impossibility of the government obtaining efficient employees who will work for the salaries being paid under the present scale, was brought home to the postoffice today as never before by the receipt of the resignation of twenty-nine letter carriers, the entire force of Butte, Mont., to take effect March 1. The resignations are provisional, but are to take effect unless much larger salaries are paid than the law now allows, or than the proposed revision of the law contemplates. The situation in Butte is only a little more aggravated than in nearly every city in the country.

"A Royal Pathway" Subject of Sermon of Dr. W. E. Cave

"I HAVE TAUGHT THEE IN THE WAY OF WISDOM; I HAVE LED THEE IN THE RIGHT PATHS."—PROV. IV-11.

"How many fathers, writing to their sons, can say this truthfully?" asked the Rev. W. E. Cave by way of preface to his sermon on "A Royal Pathway" at the First Presbyterian church last night.

The text comprehends the two fundamental principles in bringing up a child—precept and example. Solomon said: "I have taught thee in the way of wisdom; I have led thee in the right paths." He had not only taught his children, but he had led them.

"A parent may secure obedience from his children by command up to a certain point, but after that they must be led. A father may say, 'Go to Sunday school,' and for a time the children obey; but after awhile they will follow in the paths of the father, and then the responsibility rests on him to lead them in right paths."

Speaking of the two paths in life Dr. Cave suggested that it is easy for the child at first, because the paths are one. Then they diverge and form the letter "Y," and if they might be considered as projected until both paths—the right and the wrong—reach eternity, the comparison between them might be understood. Just after they diverge crossing from the right to the wrong and back again is easy because the paths lie close together, but later in life they are wider apart, and then it becomes more and more difficult for one to leave his chosen course for the other, until finally it is impossible to change.

A slackening in the fall in the river here is noticeable this morning, the whole fall for the last 48 hours being 1.6. From Saturday to Sunday the river fell .9 and from Sunday to Monday morning, .7. Business at the wharf was excellent today.

Four packets at the wharf this morning with the other activity on the river made the home port look like business. The Dick Fowler, Chattanooga, Butteroff and John S. Hopkins all had up steam and got away before noon.

The Dick Fowler had a good Monday morning business for Cairo.

The Chattanooga left today for Chattanooga barring an unexpected corn trip up the Ohio river, having arrived from that port Saturday afternoon.

Rush orders were received by Captain Backster, of the Semitor No. 2, and that steamer left today after coaling for Vicksburg. It will require six days to make the trip, as the Semitor will not run at night.

John Austin, former patrol wagon driver left on the Semitor as head mate. He will make the trip to Vicksburg and there leave the boat going to Gulfport, Miss., where he will be a boss over a gang of stevedores on the docks. Captain Nichols, of Cairo, will be pilot to Vicksburg, where the government crew will take charge.

"I could not understand this change in me. Neither could my friends. I became discouraged and went west. A week ago, while I was in San Francisco, I got a letter from the doctor who performed the operation in the hospital. Here it is. It says: 'In the panic during the explosion at the time of your operation, a nurse has confessed to me, she mixed your stomach and your brother's.'

"I'm on my way back to Philadelphia to replevin that stomach and make the doctors put it back where it belongs."

"Go," said the judge.

"I'm on my way back to Philadelphia to replevin that stomach and make the doctors put it back where it belongs."

"Want advertising fills the 'jobs' of the world with workers. It finds tenants for houses, apartments, lodgings. It 'sells things.' It brings closer and closer together. It introduces people whose interests are mutual—even if their quests are diverse."

"Want advertising forges links of 'interest' between all classes in the community. It is, indeed, the great utilitarian force in the small affairs and has grown into one of the great utilities of today."

"From a little understood and little used force in business life, 'want advertising' incidents of daily life."

CHAPTER XIII.

HE best moments of a man's life are the moments when, strong in himself, he feels that the world lies before him. Gratified ambition may be the summer, but anticipation is the ardent springtime of a man's career.

As Loder drove that night from Fleet street to Grosvenor square he realized this, though scarcely with any degree of consciousness, for he was an accomplished self analyst. But in a wave of feeling too vigorous to be denied he recognized his regained foothold—the step that lifted him at once from the pit to the pinnacle.

She stood there for a second, looking down on him, her maid a pace or two behind holding her cloak. The picture she made struck upon his mind with something of a revelation.

On his first sight of her she had appealed to him as a strange blending of youth and self possession—a girl with a woman's clearer perception of life. Later he had been drawn to study her in other respects—as a possible comrade and friend. Now for the first time he saw her as a power in her own world—a woman to whom no man could deny consideration. She looked taller for the distance between them, and the distinction of her carriage added to the effect.

Her black gown was exquisitely soft—as soft as her black hair. Above her forehead was a cluster of splendid diamonds shaped like a coronet, and a band of the same stones encircled her neck. Loder realized in a glance that only the most distinguished of women could wear such ornaments and not have her beauty eclipsed. With a touch of the old awkwardness that had before assailed him in her presence, he came slowly forward as she descended the stairs.

The man looked up. "She has just finished dinner, sir. She dined alone in her own room." He glanced at Loder in the quick, uncertain way that was noticeable in all the servants of the household when they addressed their master. Loder saw the look and wondered what depth of curiosity it betrayed, how much of insight into the domestic life that he must always be content to skim. For an instant the old resentment against Chilcoate tinged his exultation, but he swept it angrily aside. Without further remark he began to mount the stairs.

As he entered, a footman was arranging the fire that burned in the big grate. Seeing the man, he halted.

"Where is your mistress?" he asked in unconscious realization of his first question in the same house.

Loder saw the look and wondered what depth of curiosity it betrayed, how much of insight into the domestic life that he must always be content to skim. For an instant the old resentment against Chilcoate tinged his exultation, but he swept it angrily aside. Without further remark he began to mount the stairs.

As he entered, a footman was arranging the fire that burned in the big grate. Seeing the man, he halted.

"Where is your mistress?" he asked in unconscious realization of his first question in the same house.

The man looked up. "She has just finished dinner, sir. She dined alone in her own room." He glanced at Loder in the quick, uncertain way that was noticeable in all the servants of the household when they addressed their master. This pouch stove-feed assures a steady,
even heat

A stove-top hot—all over—a steady even heat—are things appreciated by every housewife.

The difficulty with the ordinary stove is that the fuel is fed under the lids only—making two separate pyramids of fire—and an unevenly heated stove-top.

Buck's stoves have extra large pouch feeds—allowing an even distribution of fuel—the entire length of the fire-box. The pouch feed also serves as a broiling door.

Reasons—both of them—why you should own a Buck's stove. But there are many more good reasons. Let us tell you of them—and about our terms and prices—today.

A dollar down and a dollar a week will buy one of these splendid stoves. You surely can't afford to miss this chance Take advantage of it today.

NO SWOLLEN HEAD

Affects German Emperor Following His Victory.

Berlin, Feb. 18.—In a statement made to your correspondent outlining the policy of the German government following its victory in the recent elections, Prince Von Buelow, the chancellor, sets at rest the fears which have been held in other European countries that, flushed by this success, Kaiser William might be disposed to meddle unpleasantly in world politics.

In his statement Prince Von Buelow says: "It is entirely incorrect to suppose that the result of the recent Reichstag elections will produce a tendency to an aggressive foreign policy on the part of Germany. If the government entertained such intentions the financial estimates, which will be submitted to the Reichstag after the opening next week, would have been augmented for this purpose. As it is, the estimates will be submitted practically in the form in which they were prepared before the elections. The emperor has no warlike intentions as erroneously supposed in some foreign countries."

I had rather be the first man in a village than the second man in Rome.—Caesar.

SCHOOL POLITICS HALTS PROFESSOR

Professor Cheek, of Fulton Hesitates

Gives Out Interview in Leader, Correcting Impression That He Is Applicant.

FULTON PEOPLE PREFER HIM

The Fulton Leader corrects an impression about Professor Cheek of that city, as follows:

The Paducah Sun says: "Prof. J. C. Cheek, superintendent of the Fulton public school system, is an applicant for the position of superintendent of the Paducah schools. Prof. Cheek made his application in person."

The Sun erred in the above statement, inasmuch as Prof. Cheek has not made application, in person or otherwise for the position.

Prof. Cheek has many friends in Paducah and they are urging him to make application. To a Leader representative Mr. Cheek made the following statement:

"For several months friends in Paducah have been urging me to apply for the position of superintendent of the public schools and I have been seriously considering the proposition. In my pocket I now have a letter from a prominent member of the Paducah school board, in which the writer urges me to make application. To tell the truth I am a little afraid of the proposition. My friends inform me that too much politics is mixed up in the Paducah schools. The members of the board seem unable to put aside their political differences.

"Under the circumstances I am undecided what course to pursue but I have not as yet applied for the position."

Prof. Cheek is a fine educator and has brought the Fulton schools up out of the "land of Egypt." When he assumed charge of the local schools they were in a state of chaos but by rigid discipline Mr. Cheek has made the Fulton schools the best and most orderly in the state.

Prof. Cheek should be offered sufficient inducement to remain in Fulton as it will be extremely difficult to find a successor who will measure up to his high standard.

FRENCH CABINET IS NEAR FALL.

Clash Over Plan to End the Church War May Bring Collapse.

Paris, Feb. 18.—Just as an agreement in the matter of the terms upon which the churches of France could be leased to the Roman Catholic clergy was about to be reached between the representatives of M. Briand, minister of education, and Cardinal Richard archbishop of Paris—an agreement involving a settlement of the most acute phase of the religious conflict—a ministerial crisis has loomed up on the horizon, and it is now doubtful whether Premier Clemenceau's cabinet will survive the coming week.

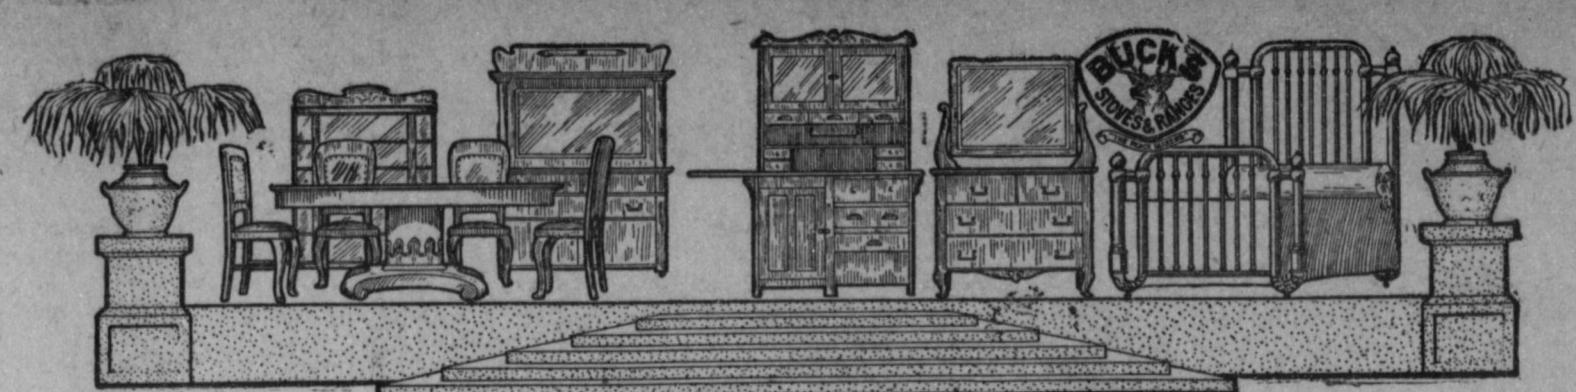

The premier left a sick bed today in order to go to the Elysee Palace where a cabinet meeting under the presidency of President Fallieres was being held, in order to insist that the cabinet should not assume alone the responsibility of authorizing the form of contracts negotiated. The premier doubted that a parliamentary majority would approve these contracts, and in any event he insisted that parliament must be given an opportunity to express its opinion on them before the government finally committed itself.

It is understood M. Briand took sharp issue with his chief after the adjournment of the cabinet meeting; it is declared that he intends to submit his views to his colleagues and that on Tuesday either he will retire or M. Clemenceau will resign.
